

PANEL NOISE HOODS

These noise hoods were developed especially for compressor trains to achieve good acoustical performance while allowing access to the equipment from any point. The basic current design is in aluminum – using sheets, extruded profiles and viscous elastic sheets. The “panels” forms the other layer and can be removed easily by one or two persons. The internal framework carries the panels

Off base panel noise hood - noise test in our workshop

Assembly of panel noise hood in our workshop